

ACCREDITATION POLICY

Notice Regarding National/Regional Accreditation

St. Christy University of Theology & Seminary is not nationally/regionally accredited. We have not sought to become regionally accredited currently but hope to do so in the possible near future.

National/Regional accreditation would involve coming under governmental regulations that may not be in harmony with our view of biblical ethics and principles. To come under such control, which is not required by law or necessary to remain accountable, we feel would impede our ability to follow the specific calling of our Lord to equip leaders in His church.

It is important for the potential student to know that some education institutions require that any credits transferred into their institution come from a regionally accredited school. Also, many State agencies require a degree from a regionally accredited school to receive certification.

St. Christy University of Theology & Seminary has no control over what other institutions or agencies accept. The potential student is strongly encouraged to discuss with the St. Christy University of Theology & Seminary staff how you plan to use your degree from St. Christy University of Theology & Seminary.
